Minister's Foreword

Selamat Datang!

Salam 1 Malaysia and welcome to the nation's largest sale carnival.

It gives me great pleasure to say a few words in conjunction with the Malaysia Mega Sale Carnival 2010.

Malaysia's success in drawing a sizeable number of visitors to our shores has been largely due to the positive support and cooperation of all its industry partners from near and far. As such, the Malaysia Mega Sale Carnival is yet another collaborative effort by the government and the private sector in positioning Malaysia as an attractive destination to shop, dine and enjoy a wonderful holiday.

For almost eight weeks, shopping aficionados will be treated to a wide selection of bargains ranging from homegrown products (like exclusive designer goods and exotic local handicrafts) to fabulous dining experiences and fantastic holiday packages. Making your shopping experience even more worthwhile is the fact that many of the retail goods in Malaysia are actually tax-exempted or duty free.

With those words, I would like to wish all visitors a warm and wonderful time here and I hope you bring home fond memories of "Malaysia Truly Asia".

Thank you.

"MALAYSIA TRULY ASIA"

DATO' SRI DR. NG YEN YEN
Minister of Tourism Malaysia

The shopping scene in Malaysia has always been a lively and exciting affair, with numerous stores offering delightful ranges of items to satisfy the shopping appetite of Malaysians and tourists.

Pop into any one of the malls and you will find endless lines of amazing merchandise that promise to leave you in a whirl. You'll find everything from sophisticated electrical equipment and hip accessories to ultra modern fashion wear, unusual knick-knacks and souvenir items.

The good news is that all this and more is easily affordable here in Malaysia, thanks to the friendly Ringgit! Be it exclusive branded ware or little fun items you pick off a street bazaar, you'll see that the Ringgit works its magic each time. And speaking of branded goods, the big-city malls are packed with world-famous labels like Fendi, Versace, Dunhill, Hermes, Aigner, Armani and Christian Dior to name just a few. A smaller budget would lead you to popular local brands such as Sembonia, Vincici, Padini, British India etc. Even lower price tags are widely available all over the country in brightly lit stores in the malls and by the roadsides. If it's bric-a-brac you're looking for, then fear not- from coast to coast, Malaysia is crammed with bazaars and flea markets offering a host of unique and exciting goodies to bring home.

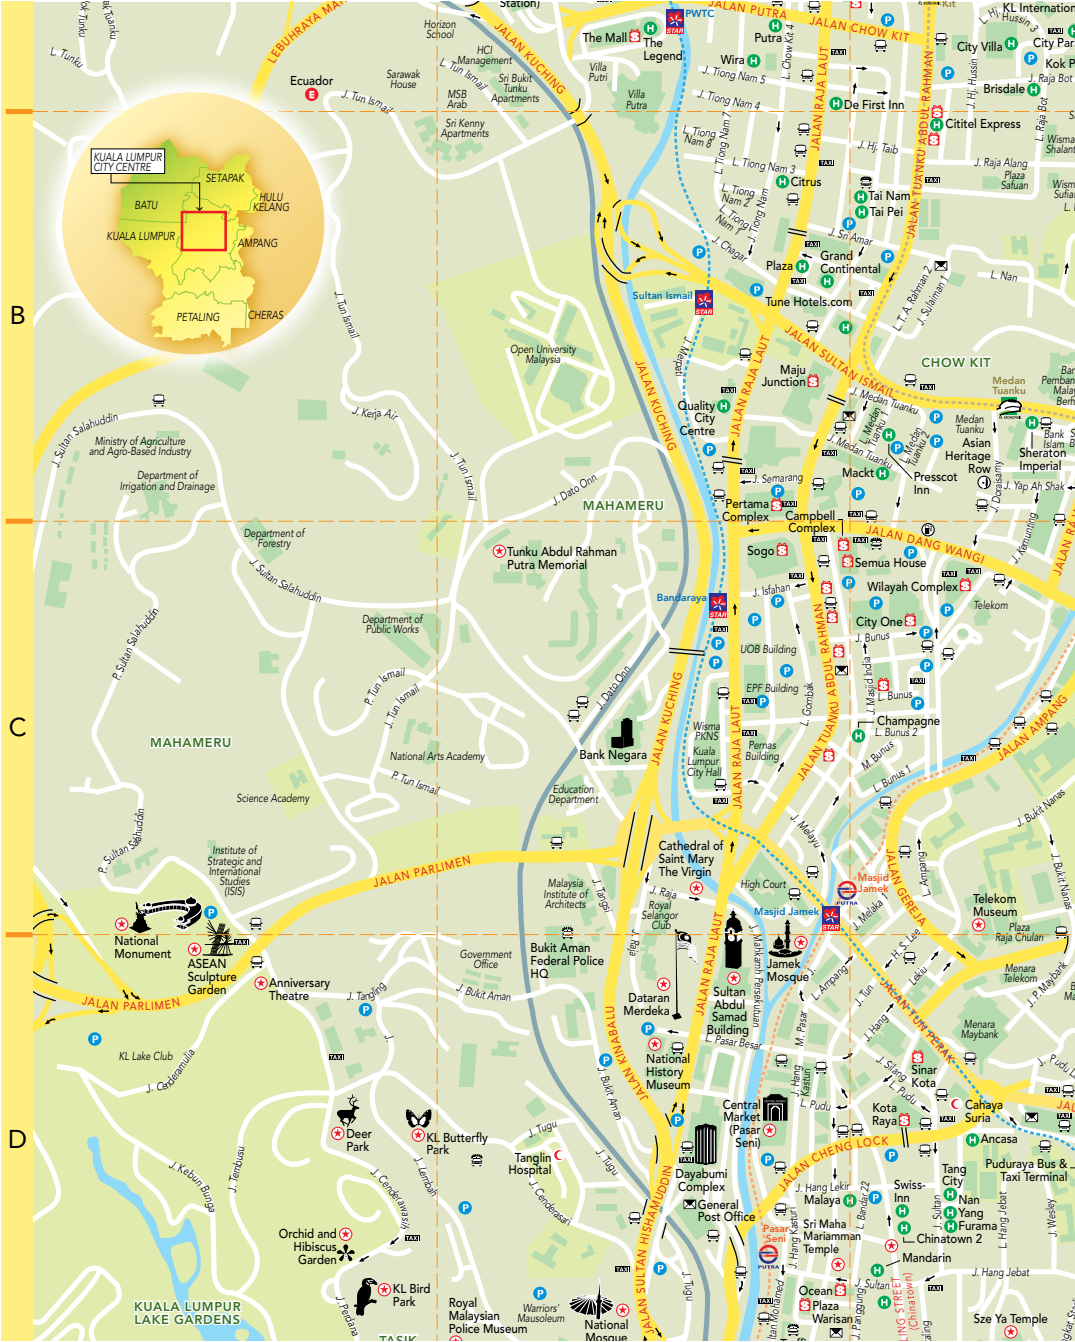

There is something for everyone here, however young or old. From elegant fashion designs and elite household items to hi-tech gadgets, books, toys and tools- you can be assured of finding something to suit every pocket and every person.

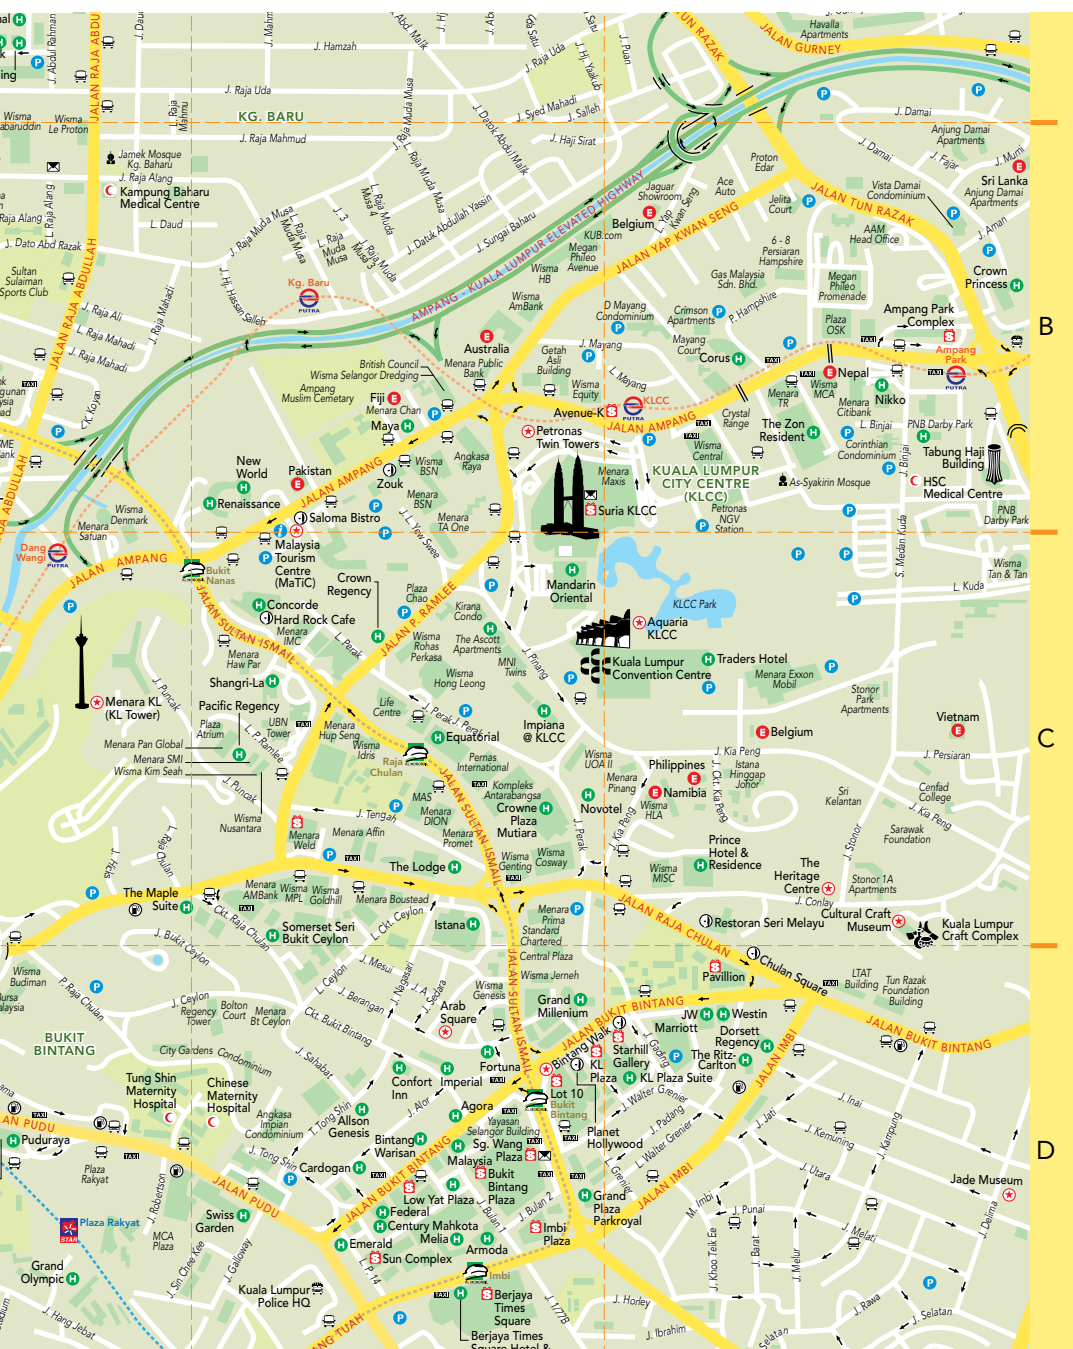

Making the shopping landscape even more colourful is the multitude of activities and sales happening nationwide throughout the year. During the much popular Mega Sale Carnival, Malaysia GP Sales, Malaysia Year End Sales as well as the numerous individual store sale periods, shoppers can expect to feast on bargains, discounts and promotions.

So, if you're holidaying in Malaysia, make it a point to drop in at our malls and stores- we guarantee you a shopping spree like no other!

Welcome to fabulous tax-free shopping! Here in Malaysia, shopping becomes even more fun with the abundance of imported tax-exempted merchandise. What is found on the retail shelves in most countries can be picked up here at much lower prices. That, and the fact the Ringgit Malaysia remains one of the most attractive currencies in the region, make shopping a highlight in every visitor's list.

While the inventory of tax-free goods keeps growing, there are some places in Malaysia designated as special duty free zones. These spots offer a delightful range of merchandise, all attached to even lower price tags.

DUTY FREE vs. FREE DUTY

DUTY FREE goods are those exempted from import duty only in designated shopping zones in Malaysia while FREE DUTY products are goods that are free from import duty and are available nationwide, all year round.

DUTY FREE

SUN, SEA & SHOPPING

It's not just about palm trees and sun soaked beaches when you step into the islands of Langkawi, Tioman and Labuan. These paradise islands offer holiday makers just the right thing to complete their tropical getaway, DUTY FREE SHOPPING!

Langkawi has long been heading the list in duty free shopping in Malaysia. In Kuah town, which is also the central district of the island, rows of stores can be found selling electronic gadgets, household goods, branded products, cosmetics and fragrances, chocolates, cigarettes and liquor-all tax free. Popular stores are the Langkawi Mall, Langkawi Fair Shopping Complex and Jetty Point Duty Free Complex. More shops can be found along the tourist-favouring beaches of Cenang and Tengah where stores sell crafts, delicacies and clothes in addition to the usual duty free merchandise. Fancy local items like pewter, crystals and glassware can be found at the duty free mall adjoining the Langkawi Underwater World and the outlets at the Oriental Village.

Sitting in the pristine South China Sea in East Malaysia, Labuan, Malaysia's off-shore financial district is also climbing up in popularity as a duty free shopping destination. Stores selling cheap tobacco, alcohol, chocolates, electrical items, watches, cosmetics and fragrances are strewn all over its shopping district especially along Jalan OKK Awang Besar. Textiles are of special interest as well as exotic souvenirs like Chinese jade, ceramic ware and furniture.

Visitors to idyllic Tioman get more than stunning sunsets and colourful marine landscapes too. The island's duty free shops especially in Kampung Tekek, are stocked well enough with chocolates, tobacco, liquor and other souvenirs to often drag sun-seekers away from the palm-fringed beaches.

Though lazing on a beach hammock would seem the ideal way to spend your holiday, do try and shop around for a bit. The duty free prices on these islands are certainly worth a few hours of your vacation.

BEFORE BOARDING

Whether you're in transit or patiently waiting to board your flight, grab the opportunity to do some last minute duty free shopping at our international airports. It offers travellers a fun shopping experience through the numerous exciting outlets available at the Kuala Lumpur International Airport, Low Cost Carrier Terminal at Sepang and other airports at Pulau Pinang, Johor Bahru, Kuching, Kota Kinabalu and Labuan.

Guy Laroche

The choice of duty free outlets in these places epitomises the essence of a complete airport-shopping spree. The myriad products include haute couture and accessories from the fashion capitals of the world as well as an array of cigars, cigarettes, fragrances, cosmetics, chocolates, confectionaries, gifts and souvenirs, all in a dizzying spectrum of options at attractive prices.

Browse through boutiques in KLIA showcasing apparels and accessories from world renowned labels like Versace, Christian Dior, Burberry's, Guy Laroche, Salvatore Ferragamo, Coach, Hermes, Dunhill and others. Apart from high fashion, you can also find discerning accessories, jewellery and gems from Mont Blanc, Selberan and Habib Jewels.

Should you need to grab a couple of Malaysian mementos, drop by the Royal Selangor Pewter outlet for some exquisite pewter ware or stores such as Asean Touch, Made in Malaysia or Malaysian Artworks for unique local crafts.

Aside from KLIA, other international airports around the country offer a fair share of duty free sprees too. Although the number of outlets is smaller, there still is a good stock of merchandise, all attached to tax-exempted price tags.

So ring up the register on your way into and out of Malaysia. What can possibly be a better way to begin or end your vacation?

SHOP MALAYSIA

SHOP THROUGH MALAYSIA!

Wherever you travel in Malaysia, there is always an opportunity to shop.

Charming shopping districts and outlets welcome visitors in every state with a colourful mix of exotic local souvenirs and contemporary merchandise. Some areas may offer goods that may not be as easily obtained elsewhere and the best way to spot them is to traverse through the country, walk our streets and converse with our people. Be assured, you'll find yourself experiencing a retail rendezvous.

LANGKAWI

Discover duty free shopping sprees at this paradise island. With a wide selection of tax-exempted goods ranging from electrical equipment and gadgets to cosmetics, fragrances, chocolates and cigars, Langkawi certainly heads the list in tax free shopping in the country. Shop for very much less at stores in the airport, Jetty Point Shopping Complex, Langkawi Fair Shopping Mall and Langkawi Parade Megamall. Popular beach haunts like Cenang and Tengah are lined with stores selling local crafts, delicacies and clothes in addition to the usual duty free merchandise. Outlets in the vicinity of the Langkawi Cable Car are great spots to pick up stylish home décor items and beach wear.

PERLIS / KEDAH

The border towns of Padang Besar and Bukit Kayu Hitam in these northern states are popular duty free zones for travellers crossing the border into and out of Thailand. There is a store in each town selling a variety of tax-exempted items like chocolates, fragrances, liquor, cigarettes and clothes.

PENANG

The Pearl of the Orient has an enticing mix of old and new treats. Georgetown is crammed with shops housed in pre-war buildings selling textile, apparels, food, jewellery, antiques and curios. The Little India district is well known for its gold and gem bazaar, colourful silk sarees and aromatic spices while Chowrasta is the oldest bazaar selling a hodge podge of unique local delicacies and textiles. Lively night markets can be found all over the island—one of the biggest being in Batu Ferringi. Other noteworthy street markets are the Lorong Kulit flea mart and the Little Penang Street Market at Upper Penang Road where antiques, crafts, plants, jewellery and food can be bought. The island's shopping malls like Penang Times Square, Gurney Plaza, Prangin Mall, Island Plaza, Queensbay Mall and Sunshine Square brim with popular local and international labels to cater for mall shoppers.

SELANGOR/ KLANG VALLEY

Klang Valley is awash with shopping malls and departmental stores catering to local and foreign masses. The shopping triangle of Bukit Bintang alone bears testimony to the popularity of shopping in Malaysia. Signature shopping landmarks include the Pavilion Kuala Lumpur, Starhill Gallery, Suria KLCC, Mid Valley Megamall, Sunway Pyramid, 1 Utama Shopping Centre, The Curve and The Gardens at Mid Valley City. Even so smaller malls and stores are plentiful, offering shoppers not only a wide range of local and imported items but also numerous sale seasons to enjoy. Kuala Lumpur is the country's premier shopping hub, filled with merchandise ranging from international high end labels to exotic items off the street markets.

PERAK

Given its proximity to the Cameron Highlands and the surrounding fruit orchards, visitors will find an abundance of fresh fruits here, particularly the 'pomelo'. Perak is also famed for its lovely 'Labu Sayong' or gourd-shaped clay pottery that serve as water cisterns as well as decorative items. Off shore at Pangkor Island, dried seafood produce are popular buys. Mall shopping can be done in places like the Ipoh Parade, Greentown Mall and Kinta City Shopping Centre in Ipoh city.

MELAKA

Much of Melaka's charms lie in its rich range of antiques, curios and wonderful cuisine. Jonker Walk is simply a must for shoppers hunting down unusual souvenirs; here you'll also be able to sample the famous 'Nyonya' food at sidewalk stalls and little cafes. Head for Dataran Pahlawan, Medan Samudera or the stalls along Jalan Merdeka for local handicrafts. Mahkota Parade and Dataran Pahlawan Mega Mall offer their share of local and foreign merchandise in a mall environment.

NEGERI SEMBILAN

The town of Nilai boomed overnight when it became a wholesale centre for numerous household items. The Nilai 1 section sells a hoard of things ranging from fine wood, rattan and bamboo furniture to textiles, household linens, décor objects and wedding paraphernalia. Nilai 3 is a separate section focussing on textiles alone. Not only is Nilai popular for its wide selection of products, it is also known for its very affordable, lower-than-city centre prices. In the town of Seremban the Jusco Seremban 2 Shopping Centre serves the main shopping needs of the locals.

JOHOR

Johor Bahru's malls like the City Square, Danga City Mall and Plaza Pelangi are popular not only with local shoppers but also with the mass of Singaporeans who visit daily. Don't miss tax-free goods at The ZON Johor Bahru, a designated duty-free zone within the city. The little town of Ayer Hitam is worth stopping over for its jumble of pottery, ceramic, handicrafts, local snacks and fresh tropical fruits, while Tangkak town is well known for textiles and household linens.

PAHANG

Pahang's jungles provide for a wide range of forest products that the aboriginal community can be found selling en route to Cameron Highlands and other parts of the state. Head for the marketplace at Tanah Rata and buy from the stalls spilling over with multi-coloured blossoms and fresh farm produce of vegetables, honey and strawberries. Batik and handicrafts can be found in Kuantan while further south in Mersing, dried seafood produce is the main thing to look for. At the famous Genting Highlands, the First World Plaza with its stretch of apparel, accessories and souvenir outlets adds on to the fun in the city of entertainment.

KELANTAN/ TERENGGANU

These states are home to some of the best handicrafts and artwork in the country. Fine 'batik' and 'songket' in textile and apparel forms, graceful 'wau' or giant kites, delicate silver, brass and woodcraft and a whole lot of exotic foods like the famous 'belacan' and 'budu' can be found here.

SABAH

Sabah is a treasure trove of unique crafts and souvenirs. Harvested from the surrounding seas and farms, pearls are an absolute must-buy. They can be purchased loose or in pre-set jewellery form. Other great buys are beadwork, hand-woven baskets, the 'Kain Dastar' material, jewellery and Sabah tea. Check out the stretch of handicraft shops in Wawasan Plaza in Kota Kinabalu; for fantastic bargains head over to the Handicraft Market located along Jalan Tun Fuad Stephens. The newest shopping centre in Kota Kinabalu, the 1Borneo Hypermall Autocity answers to the call of locals and tourists for local and imported goods, fancy cafes and various themed entertainment outlets. The mall is also connected to several hotels, making it convenient for visitors to hop over for a shopping fling at any time.

SARAWAK

The Land of the Hornbill offers souvenirs like pottery, beadwork, textiles ('Pua Kumbu'), bamboo, rattan and wood work, reed baskets as well as other fascinating things like the salted 'terubuk' fish, layer cakes and the famed Sarawak pepper and pineapples. Most of these items can be bought at sidewalk stores or bazaars in Kuching, Sibul and Miri. The Boulevard Shopping Complex in Miri and The Spring, Crowne Plaza Shopping Complex, Crown Square and Tun Jugah Shopping Complex in Kuching city, offer a decent selection of local and imported goods.

LABUAN

Another duty-free island offering a selection of goods ranging from electrical items to pens, watches, perfumeries and chocolates. Textiles are of special interest here and along Jalan OKK Awang Besar, shoppers can find Chinese jade and ceramic ware, furniture and embroidered material.

LOCAL BRAND POWER

Whilst Malaysia is a great place to shop for branded goods, it is also the home of brand names that have succeeded in penetrating the international market. An endless range of other labels though, are highly popular with local and foreign consumers and are often ranked tops in terms of quality and appeal. Stretching across a whole spectrum of merchandise, these labels make for great shopping in terms of trend and pricing.

Big names in the market are concentrated towards the production of apparels and accessories like British India, East India Company, Padini, Sembonia, Carlo Rino, Primavera, Lewre, Poh Kong, Habib Jewels, Radioactive and Vincci to name a few. In the world of fashion, the biggest names are Jimmy Choo, known for his exquisite footwear and, Bernard Chandran and Zang Toi for their apparels. Parkson's departmental store, Royal Selangor's pewter ware, Proton and Perodua cars and Pensonic and Khind electrical appliances are some brands that have gone beyond Malaysian shores.

On the local front, this list is extended with the addition of several well-known food and beverage names like Secret Recipe, Kyros Kebab, Old Town White Coffee, Chicken Rice Shop and Laksa Shack among others. So while you're out loading your shopping cart with Malaysian merchandise, stop to savour the culinary offerings from our local franchise outlets.

FASHION & LUXURY IN THE CAPITAL CITY

The vibrant capital city of Kuala Lumpur opens its doors to the glamorous world of high fashion! Be it local designer wear or imports from world renowned fashion houses, the city's sleek shelves simply have to be one of its best appeals. New malls in the Klang Valley have taken shoppers to task with a whole string of shoppa-licious stores. Many labels, previously only seen abroad and in the pages of vogue magazines are now gracing the interiors of Kuala Lumpur's top shopping centres.

If you're hunting for top of the range brands, these are the spots to head for:

SURIA KLCC

Downtown Suria KLCC is a huge favourite for a number of reasons. Its location beneath the world's tallest towers, the Petronas Twin Towers and its premises of lovely landscape and dancing fountains make it a must visit for practically every tourist. The 6 levels of the plush mall offer a great variety goods and services to please and pamper the needs of shoppers. International fashion labels can be found in abundance-Jimmy Choo, Emilio Pucci, Marc Jacobs, Vilebrequin, Dunhill, Chanel, Giorgio Armani and Salvatore Ferragamo are just a few in the long line of designer wear. Fabulous local brands can be found at outlets like I Karttini, Sibel, Dewi Moon, Ang Eng and Arzu.

PAVILION KUALA LUMPUR

Welcome to the city's latest shopping haunt with its 450 shops spread over 7 retail levels. The mall features exclusive labels from around the world and the latest in fashion, entertainment, health and beauty, electronics and gourmet food. Its level of comfort, safety, services and facilities has set a new benchmark in the local shopping scene. Some of the labels you can expect to pick up here are Hermes, Chopard, Coach, DKNY, GUCCI, Yves Saint Lauren, Versace, TOD'S, Montblanc and numerous others.

STARHILL GALLERY

This deluxe gallery features the crème of high fashions and labels, some unavailable anywhere else in Asia. Making a huge statement through the simplicity of names such as Feast, Indulge, Adorn, Explore, Pamper, Relish and Muse-after which each level is named, the gallery creates luxurious experiences to pamper an elite clientele. Housing a number of flagship stores and exclusive brands unavailable anywhere else outside its home countries, the gallery is the first of its kind in the region. Starhill Gallery is in fact, the Global Fine Watch Retail Centre showcasing the single largest concentration of the world's leading horology legends. Pamper yourself with a highly select fashion list featuring names like Bottega Veneta, Chaumet, Louis Vuitton, Chopard, Boucheron, Audemars Piguet, Richard Mille, Armand Nicolet and many more.

THE GARDENS

Located at the fringe of the town centre, The Gardens at Mid Valley City is popular for its theme inspired by fundamental arts, crafts, flora and fauna of the region. The mall offers natural comfort in a contemporary environment laced with warm hospitality. Better yet for the avid shopper, it features lush offerings hot from leading runways of the world. Browse through an extensive collection of designer items from Karen Millen, Massimo Dutti, Lewre Couture, BCBG MAXAZARIA, Raoul, Coach, Ted Baker, Longchamp and more.

ONE UTAMA SHOPPING CENTRE

Located at a popular suburb district, 1Utama is now stocked with a fine selection of popular international labels such as BCBG MAXAZARIA, Bimba & Lola, Braun Buffel, Brooks Brothers, Chanel, Coach, DKNY Jeans, Guy Laroche and Massimo Dutti. The mall's practically endless mix of stores offering fashion, home, lifestyle, entertainment and food and beverage services makes it a very popular place with both local and foreign shoppers. Its new wing has designated shopping zones displaying individual characteristics, allowing shoppers a chance to stroll about and enjoy various shopping experiences.

MO OUTLET

Luxury for less—that's what you get when you shop at the MO Outlet in Kuala Lumpur! It is an all-embracing designer warehouse outlet offering exclusive reductions on international labels. Although the goods are from previous seasons, the fabulous discounts off the usual retail tags make this outlet hugely attractive. Fashion followers will find their dream items in the racks and shelves here at much more affordable prices. You can expect to find labels such as Stuart Weitzman, Cole Haan, Emilio Pucci, Hugo Boss, Ermenegildo Zegna, Aigner, Furla, Juicy Couture, TOD's and Farah Khan.

Eric's design philosophy is best encapsulated in the essence of the Eric Choong woman.

In designing for the strong, independent and passionate woman with a sense of individual style, he favours creative boldness and rich fabrics, textures and colours, paired with impeccable technical acumen.

ERIC CHOONG

Fashion for Eric, is a calling. Growing up, he discovered a fascination for clothes and design while flipping through his mother's imported magazines from Hong Kong and Japan. At 7, he had produced his first sketches; by 13, he was a somewhat of a sort after designer among his school teachers!

Each creation is preceded by a careful study of fabric, drape and movement and an astute understanding of how these elements come together to dress and flatter the feminine frame.

He graduated from the Hong Kong Institute of Fashion Design in 1986 and returned to Kuala Lumpur in 1990 to start the Eric Choong Haute Couture label. Based on his philosophy that fashion should be an expression of individual style and personality, the label quickly gained a reputation for its impressive creations. Eric also broke new grounds with the way he combined Malaysian cultural influences into his sophisticated designs.

Encouraged by the success of his eponymous label, Eric ventured into made-to-measure bridal wear. Eric Choong Brides was a natural extension given that his haute couture clients had started requesting that he design their bridal trousseau. His penchant for the extravagant and luxurious translated into fairy-tale wedding gowns.

The Pret-a-Porter and Corporate Design labels followed in more recent years stemming from his desire to extend similar standards of fashion design to a wider group.

His concern about providing the best for his bridal and corporate clients also saw the expansion of the Eric Choong labels to include Eric Choong Flowers, an award-winning floral design service.

He has also collaborated with leading luxury brands and media titles such as Cartier, Tiffany & Co., Moët & Chandon, Malaysian Tatler & The Star (Malaysia). In 2006, he picked up the Best Costume Designer award at the 19th Malaysian Film Festival for his work in the film 3rd Generation. The following year, he was named Designer of the Year at the Malaysian International Fashion Week 2007; Eric Choong Kuala Lumpur also won the Best Collection Showcase of the Year.

His collections capture the classical silhouettes of Malay, Chinese and Indian traditional wear, mixing them with contemporary elegance, hues and fabrics. These works have earned him several awards in the Malaysian traditional and contemporary design categories, thus expanding his global appeal.

Salikin was the first Malaysian designer to bring Malaysian ethnic fashions to the world by introducing his collections over CNN; his works were also shown in numerous local and international design showcases.

SALIKIN SIDEK

Salikin Sidek is inspired by the beauty of nature and art; his work reflects a strong passion for bygone beauties that remain as his design philosophy. He brings the roots of Malaysian ethnic couture to modern fashion technologies and designs. The style of his creations is one of graceful mystery, with flattering feminine lines that are timeless and elegant.

BAZAARS, NIGHT MARKETS & FLEA MARKETS

So how and where do the locals shop when they are not at the malls? Take a peek into the streets and discover our world of street shopping! Like in most countries, street shopping holds tremendous charm for the foreign visitor. They're fused with colours, sounds and scents and are great places to capture the essence of the local people and their lives.

Malaysian street shopping is composed of our famous 'pasar malam' or night markets, a myriad of bazaars and enchanting flea marts. From textiles to clothes, funky accessories, household goods, fresh produce, food and even astonishing acts from traditional medicine men, the markets offer much for the curious and adventure – seeking traveller.

Not only do you get to shop for great local stuff, our street markets and their goods vary somewhat from state to state. That's not all, you'll even find dedicated marts like the gold bazaar in Penang, craft bazaars in the east coast states of Kelantan and Terengganu, the antique hotspot of Jonker Street, Melaka and the even more exotic and colourful 'Tamu' in Sabah. If you have a thing for pottery and porcelain, check out the Ayer Hitam bazaar in Johor and in Kuala Lumpur, don't miss out the Central Market with its gold mine of crafty treasures. Finally no matter which town or village you're in, you'll absolutely love browsing through the night markets which are choc-a-block with an endless assortment of goods.

Arm yourself with a camera for some fascinating snapshots and remember, though the goods may be offered cheap, haggling always adds a lot of fun when you hit any street market!

SABAH'S STREET SURPRISES

One of the best adventures you can have in Malaysian Borneo is a jaunt amongst its bustling local street markets. Spilling over with merchandise that delight, captivate and sometimes even astonish, they are awesome spots to collect keepsakes and some colourful memories of your Borneo expedition.

In Sabah, you'll find a range of markets where you can pick up bargains on handmade craft, antiques, fresh seafood, local cakes, vegetables and exotic fruits. Mostly held in outskirt towns like Kota Belud, Tamparuli, Papar and Penampang, these buzzing open air markets or 'Tamu' are one of the highlights of the Land Below the Wind.

Apart from street shopping, the Tamu is a great way to meet the locals and buy directly from the people who create, make or grow what they sell. Plus, every Tamu at a different location offers somewhat different sights, sounds and smells like the lovely aroma of fried 'keropok bantal' (giant-size sweet potato crisps) in Kota Belud or the soothing sounds of the Sompoton in Tamparuli.

DONGGONGON TAMU

Just a ½ hour drive from Kota Kinabalu brings you to this morning market where the locals shop for daily use goods like fresh produce, spices, ready cooked food and household products. Look out for intricately woven bead accessories, gongs, jungle produce and traditional medicine, which are common features of Borneo.

GAYA STREET MARKET

Located in the heart of Kota Kinabalu, this is a popular site for locals and visitors to shop every Sunday morning. Antique gongs, potted plants, pets, pearls, ceramic, clothing, local cakes and wild honey are just some of the items on offer. Even if you don't buy anything, which would be quite impossible, this is a great place to get a feel for the local lifestyle.

TAWAU AND SANDAKAN

Tawau is where you'd be if you are on the way to Sipadan or the world-class dive sites in Sabah's east coast. On the way, be sure to pick up Tawau's famous dried seafood specialties such as dried shrimps and fish. For the beauty and health conscious, there is no better place than Sandakan to buy quality birds' nest. These are harvested locally in Madai and Gomantong Caves.

SITI KHADIJAH MARKET, KOTA BAHRU

Whatever you do, do NOT leave Kelantan without visiting its famous Siti Khadijah Market in Kota Bharu. It's probably one of the most exciting and vibrant street markets you'll ever see in Malaysia.

Run predominantly by womenfolk, the market teems with merchandise ranging from colourful fresh produce of vegetables, fruits, pickles and spices to fascinating traditional crafts and delectable local cakes. The market is also a great spot to experience a facet of the Kelantanese' life, one that is saturated with the heady profusion of colours, scents and sounds. Its obvious vivacity and character makes it one of the most favoured places amongst photographers and tourists while in the country.

Located at Buluh Kubu in the heart of Kota Bharu, the market is just three storeys high. It was originally known as the Buluh Kubu Market and later renamed as Siti Khadijah Market after Prophet Muhammad's wife, who was known to be a very entrepreneurial woman.

PASAR PAYANG, KUALA TERENGGANU

There are several places in Terengganu that can offer one great item to add to a collection of keepsakes; the Central Market, also known as Pasar Payang is somewhat a one-stop bazaar offering a great selection of such objects.

Located by the Terengganu River, this popular tourist spot in Kuala Terengganu is set within a modern looking building. It is a favourite destination of tourists as this combination of a wet market and shopping arcade sells attractive local handicrafts like batik, brassware, brocade and songket, alongside fresh local produce like fruits, vegetables, fish and local delicacies. Visitors can look forward to a pleasant experience shopping for authentic local products at reasonable prices. As with many local street markets, the Pasar Payang is an ideal place to gain insight to the local culture and people.

One thing you absolutely shouldn't miss is a go at a local delicacy called Keropok Lekor. This crispy cracker made from a mixture of fish and sago is one of the state's most popular culinary exports.

Eaten with a chilli sauce dip, its taste and aroma will have you coming back for second servings!

KEA FARM MARKETS, CAMERON HIGHLANDS

Drive up just a few kilometers north of Brinchang town in Cameron Highlands and you'll discover one of the most colourful spots in the highlands, the Kea Farm markets. Stretching across almost 1 kilometre, a profusion of colours paint these markets as one huge, lively garden.

The stalls are packed tight with absolutely fresh vegetables and fruits straight out of the surrounding farms as well as plants and pretty little cactus from the orchards nearby. The markets are filled with flowers of numerous shades too, roses being the most popular. Don't be surprised if you find yourself grabbing at stalks of blooms at every turn.

With its vibrant colours and scent of roses and lilies that permeate the air at the marketplace, it is no surprise that the Kea Farm markets are considered a main highlight of this famed highland destination. Aside from that, they are also great spots for picking up the country's freshest farm produce at amazingly cheap prices.

COASTAL CRAFTS

Malaysian handicrafts are steeped in culture and tradition and if you are traversing the balmy east coast of Peninsular Malaysia, you will discover a rich and fascinating collection of arts and crafts unique to this region. Many of these beautiful crafts make functional art pieces while some make for gorgeous apparel, jewellery and even games. Whichever the craft, each one proudly reflects the astounding creativity imbued in Malaysian craftsmen that brings forth a series of handiwork echoing a whole world of traditions, techniques, colours and materials.

WHAT TO LOOK OUT FOR ## FABRICS

BATIK

The word 'batik' carries with it a whole number of meanings. It is firstly a process, a fabric dyeing method that involves the use of wax to mark off areas on the fabric that are to remain un-dyed. It can also mean the visual design that is often featured in this process, the fabric that is the end result of the process and the endless array of products that use the process or fabric as the base material. The 'batik' designs are often colourful and can range from floral designs to geometric patterns, landscape and even cartoons. 'Batik' products are not limited to mere fabrics and clothing but are used in items such as bedspreads, bed sheets, slippers, album covers and beautiful art pieces.

SONGKET

'Songket' is traditional Malay brocade that consists of silk or fine cotton cloth interwoven with gold or silver threads. The origin of this beautiful cloth can be traced back to the region's early trading routes where the silk came from China and the gold and silver threads, from India. This rich fabric was once reserved strictly for royalty and is a feature of special social, royal and ceremonial events. These days, the 'songket' is featured in everyday items such as handbags, shoes and even wall decorations.

TEKAT

This is the art of gold thread embroidery and the traditional form used only gold thread and sequins exclusively. It was used by nobility for both ceremonial and domestic use. The cloths were used on betel leave boxes or fashioned into furnishing items such as cushions and fans. Now, it is used in traditional wedding regalia like bridal outfits, shoes, bed spreads and mats.

SILVER

Local silver jewellers produce exquisite pieces in two methods i.e. filigree and repousse. Filigree consists of delicate, lace-like ornamental work and intertwined silver wire, while repousse is formed in relief as a design or pattern on thin metal, beaten up from the underside. The state of Kelantan is famous for its silver and is well known for its beautiful silver jewellery. Earrings, brooches, bracelets and tie clips are some of the items to look out for. Not to be missed are local specialties like the 'cucuk sanggul' (hairpin) and 'kerongsang', a three-piece brooch set used to fasten the traditional 'kebaya' tunic.

BRASS

Brass is an alloy essentially made of copper and zinc. Brass or 'tembaga kuning', is used mainly for practical reasons and functional items such as kitchen utensils. Brassware items in this category range from plates, cake moulds, pans, candlesticks to incense holders and decorative objects. White metal or 'tembaga putih' is used to produce more refined items such as the 'tepak sirih' (betel nut) sets. Wax moulds are used to create the shape of the brass objects. Once completed, the brass is polished until its brilliant surface emerges.

FROM THE FORESTS

WEAVINGS

'Pandan' and 'Mengkuang' weavings this includes an entire range of woven handicraft items including mats, placemats, hats and the 'tudung saji' (conical shaped food covering). Similarly, bamboo and rattan are other types of materials favoured by craftsmen to fashion baskets, bags, pencil holders and even furniture.

GAMES WAYANG KULIT

Known also as shadow play, this art form is one of the most popular leisure activities especially in the state of Kelantan. Shadow puppets made of cow or buffalo hides are played up against a white cloth screen, lit from behind by electric or gas lamps. The puppeteer who also serves as the narrator is accompanied by 'gamelan' music. These colourful and delicate puppets are often picked up as authentic local souvenirs.

GASING

'Gasing' or top spinning is more than child's play in the east coast. Here, full grown adults indulge in this game with such fervour that competitions are held regularly. In the 'Gasing Uri' event, the top that spins fastest and longest is generally considered the winner while in the 'Gasing Pangkah' event, opposing teams attempt to break or upset the balance of each others' tops. These wooden tops come in many sizes and make entertaining gifts.

WOODCARVING

Malaysian woodcarvers produce fine souvenir and home decorative items like mirror frames with floral motifs, lamp stands and head boards. The surrounding tropical jungles help to provide numerous types of wood from which objects of varying colours and textures are created. The state of Terengganu in particular has long been famous for producing some of the finest wood craft in the country.

WAU

The making and flying of the 'wau' or Malaysian kite is a tradition unique to the coastal communities on the east coast. With a frame made of bamboo and patterns painstakingly cut out from rice-paper and glued to form elaborate motifs of flora or animals, the 'wau' is an art form that has come to be a Malaysian trademark. It is commonly flown during the windy harvest months as a pastime and in competitions. Souvenirs of the 'wau' in its actual as well as miniature forms can be found in various designs.

The motif forms of the 'songket' are usually positioned according to the division of the sarong such as panel decorated with full flowers or isolated flowers, the head decorated with a vertical 'corak', and the base or 'kaki' with a horizontal 'corak' or a combination of plant and animal elements. The most common motifs are the 'pucuk rebung' and 'lawi ayam'.

STORY OF THE SONGKET

The word 'songket' or 'sungkit' comes from the word 'menyungkit', which means 'to embroider with gold or silver thread'. Strangely enough the Malay 'songket' is not embroidered but uses an intricate supplementary weft technique where gold or silver threads are woven in between the longitudinal silk threads of the background cloth.

MALAYSIAN MUST EATS

Food is our common ground, a universal experience
- James Beard

A typical conversation between Malaysians will almost always start with "Have you eaten yet?" Malaysians love to eat and for good reason too! Being a melting pot of cultures, Malaysia is home to many different types of gastronomic pleasures.

The variety is amazing, catering for every palate from international cuisine to local delights, roadside stalls to chic cafes. In short, Malaysia's a food lover's paradise! So don't leave the country without a 'makan' or eating escapade – we guarantee it will be one of the most memorable parts of your holiday.

Here is some local fare you shouldn't miss out on:

SATAY

The 'satay' can be considered one of the country's signature dishes. It is featured at every turn from entire hawker centres dedicated to 'satay' alone to signboards advertising the best joints. Skewers of marinated beef, chicken, chicken gizzard, tripe and deer meat are barbecued over open fire and served with a spicy peanut sauce and slivers of cucumber, onion and 'nasi himpit' or compressed rice.

NASI LEMAK

If there is one dish that has transcended local cultural barriers, it has got to be this. It is a simple dish of rice cooked in coconut milk served with cucumber, fried peanuts, fried anchovies and 'sambal' or chili paste. The 'nasi lemak' will definitely whet your taste buds with its rich fragrance. It is also sometimes served with chicken, beef or seafood.

ASAM LAKSA

This northern specialty is so popular that every region in Malaysia has invented its own version of it. White rice noodles are boiled and served in thick and sour fish gravy with a generous dose of shredded pineapple, cucumber and salad leaves. Into this mixture, a prawn paste, onions and chillies are thrown to produce a most aromatic dish. Try the popular 'Penang Laksa' at one of the many hawker stalls there; it's a taste you will remember for long.

ROTI CANAI AND MURTABAK

Simple yet satisfying, this humble version of the bread is an all-day favourite among all Malaysians. Its popularity is obvious in the abundant number of 'roti canai' stalls found throughout the country and often from sunrise to the wee hours of the night. The most common 'roti canai' resembles a fluffy pancake and is eaten with a mixture of curries and lentil gravy or 'dhal'. Variations include 'roti' with a choice stuffing of egg, sardines, cheese or even banana. Catch the 'roti canai' seller in action-watch the skilful spins and tosses as he prepares the dough for the griddle! And if you still have space, try the 'murtabak', a close cousin of the 'roti canai'. Made using a rich batter of whipped egg, meat, chili and onion, it is folded into the 'roti' and cooked over a griddle. The thick, golden brown 'murtabak' is delicious on its own but the accompanying curries and pickled onions certainly enhances the taste further.

NASI KANDAR

Nasi Kandar is typically plain rice served with a variety of curries and side dishes. You can choose from an array of meats, seafood and vegetables, and have a generous douse of mixed sauces thrown on top, the combination of which serves up a rich, aromatic rice meal.

CHAR KOAY TEOW

Be prepared for long queues if you visit the best 'char koay teow' stalls in Penang! But the wait and fuss will be worth it. This simple dish of flat rice noodles stir-fried with prawns, cockles, egg and bean sprouts may not be gourmet food but its taste is no less exquisite. A good plate of 'char koay teow' is dependant on heat, speed and timing. So the preparation is a treat to watch!

HAINANESE CHICKEN RICE

Originating from Hainan in China, this is one of the most common and popular dishes here. It is a tasty rice dish cooked in chicken stock, salt, garlic and ginger, served alongside succulent steamed or roasted chicken and a bowl of chicken soup. A savoury sauce made of chili, garlic, ginger and lime juice completes this most delicious meal.

OTAK-OTAK

Tourists to Malaysia may not get the chance to visit the quiet town of Muar but they can always get a taste of its favourite dish, the 'otak-otak'. Cooked fish meat is blended with lemongrass, spices and coconut milk, wrapped in fragrant leaves and grilled over a charcoal pit. Slivers of smooth, soft and firm meat coloured orange by the spices, emerge from within the burnt leaf wrappings.

CENDOL

The popularity of this cold, sweet dessert spans from cart pushers on roadsides to elegant restaurants. Shaved ice is thrown into a bowl of sweet kidney beans, liquefied palm sugar and soft, green vermicelli before a ladle of thick coconut milk is poured over. The combination of ingredients is simply awesome and is a popular reprieve in these hot regions. It is a common sight here to see the locals crowding around a stall, eagerly spooning up the delicious 'cendol'.

TEH TARIK

Dubbed as the national drink, 'teh tarik' which literally means 'stretched tea', is a favourite local pick-me-up. Preparing this hot, frothy drink is both an art and science. A certain skill is required to 'stretch' the tea back and forth using two containers without spillage. Doing this actually helps mix the ingredients better, thus enriching the taste.

EAST COAST FARE

The East Coast States of Kelantan and Terengganu in Malaysia boast some of the most appetising dishes in the country. Though heavily influenced by Thai cuisine, the food in this part of the country has evolved and retained its own local flavours, which can be a bit sweet at times due to the amount of sugar put in all the dishes. Kelantan in particular, makes more use of coconut milk than anywhere else in the country, making curries there richer and creamier in taste and texture.

Kelantan and Terengganu have many similar dishes that have become local favourites, available all over the country. But the best and most authentic dishes are still State-side and sold in restaurants and stalls, attracting large crowds of hungry locals and travelers everyday with its delicious selection of rice, meats, vegetables and desserts.

NASI DAGANG

Nasi Dagang or 'trader's rice' is a mix of white and brown glutinous rice cooked with coconut milk, blended onions and garlic, and spices. The dish is served with a variety of aromatic curries, usually a spicy tuna fish curry, together with a mild brown sugared sambal or chili paste, piquant vegetable pickle and hard-boiled egg. It is extremely filling, so smaller portions are recommended for first timers and those with small appetites.

NASI KERABU

Nasi Kerabu literally means 'rice salad'. There are a few varieties of Nasi Kerabu, based on which coloured rice you choose and the condiment that comes with it. The Nasi Kerabu Putih (white rice salad) is served with a sambal tumis, a spicy coconut milk-based gravy sautéed with local herbs and spices. Then, there is the Nasi Kerabu Hitam (black rice salad), so called for the blue-black colour of the rice (which is soaked and cooked with a local flower) and the Nasi Kerabu Kuning (yellow rice salad) which uses turmeric in the preparation of the rice. Nasi Kerabu Hitam and Kuning are served with a specially made chilly sauce.

The kerabu or salad could be a combination of any vegetables or edible leaves including the daun kesum, bean sprout, long green beans, bunga kantan (ginger bud flowers), cucumber and daun kadok. The rice dish is also served with other condiments like fried breaded fish, crackers, salted egg, solok lada (stuffed chilies), pickled garlic and a splash of budu.

SOLOK LADA

These are green chilies stuffed with chubb mackerel, grated coconut, shallots, ginger and lemongrass, boiled in coconut milk. Solok Lada is usually eaten with Nasi Kerabu or plain white rice.

BUDU

Not for the faint-hearted, Budu is a salted and fermented anchovy sauce which is eaten with rice, grilled fish and ulam. To make it more flavourful, lime juice, hot chilies and onions are often added for taste. Some even go so far as to add tempoyak (fermented durian) or fresh durian for good measure.

delicious dish is eaten with white rice and is usually served during a feast or special occasions. The same paste, which is basically a combination of coconut milk, shallots, chillies, ginger, tamarind paste, spices and lemon grass, is also used to grill fish, making it a tasty alternative for seafood lovers.

KETUPAT SOTONG

Ketupat Sotong is a delicious if somewhat unusual dessert made of steamed glutinous rice stuffed into a squid and cooked in a sauce made of coconut milk, shallots, spices and gula Melaka or cane/brown sugar. A firm favourite with the locals, this dish is a must try for those visiting the East Coast.

AKOK

Akok is a type of dessert made mainly of duck eggs, gula Melaka, cloves, pandan leaves, coconut milk and flour. The mixture is then poured into a special mould and cooked in an oven. The taste and texture of Akok is similar to that of crème caramel.

SATAR

Satar is a dish that is famous in Terengganu. It is an interesting blend of succulent boneless fish marinated in spices, shallots and ginger, wrapped in banana leaves and grilled over a flaming charcoal fire. This dish is usually eaten as an appetizer or a snack.

KEROPOK LEKOR AND KEROPOK GOTE

Keropok Lekor (Terengganu) and Keropok Gote (Kelantan) are basically fish crackers. Made from a combination of pounded fish meat and sago, these crackers are rolled into long strips and then boiled or steamed. It is then ready to be eaten. Alternatively, you can also cut the cooked strips to the desired length and bite size, deep fry and serve with a chilli dip.

LAKSAM

Laksam Noodles are made from a combination of rice flour, water and salt which is later steamed on a flat surface, then rolled and cut into strips measuring approximately 1 cm wide. It is served with a white gravy of fish (or eels), coconut milk, shallots, garlic, ginger, lemon grass and stock. Laksam is not complete without its condiments of ulam (raw vegetables) and chilly paste.

AYAM PERCIK

Ayam Percik is chicken marinated with a coconut based paste and barbecued to perfection over a charcoal fire. This

In the course of your discovery of Malay cuisine, you may come across a spread of local fresh green vegetables known as ulam-ulaman. Usually eaten raw with rice dishes, these salads are known for their medicinal and health properties. They are high in vitamins, minerals and contain anti bacterial and anti oxidant properties, as well as are used as traditional medicine for diabetes and high blood pressure.

Any vegetable can be assumed to be an ulam when eaten simply as it is, including the cucumber, cabbage, eggplant and tomatoes but for most part, the locals would prefer to eat the more traditional ulam like the Ulam Raja, Daun Pegaga, Petai, Daun Kadok and the Kacang Kelisa to name a few. The ulam is usually eaten or dipped into sambal belacan (chilly with shrimp paste), cencalok or tempoyak.

ULAM RAJA

The Ulam Raja can be found growing wild around Malaysia. The young shoots which are normally eaten, taste quite minty and the health benefits include cleansing of blood and bone strengthening.

DAUN PEGAGA

The Daun Pegaga or Indian Pennywort originated from India but can be found anywhere in South East Asia. Besides eating the raw Daun Pegaga rice, locals also drink its juice as a brain tonic, to rebuild energy and combat stress. It also helps reduce high blood pressure, slow down the ageing process, and help the body protect itself against toxins.

PETAI

Petai resembles large French beans. Each 'papan' or board as it is called has between 12 to 15 seeds arranged lengthwise on it. The seeds are usually peeled and eaten raw though some prefer it cooked in a sambal paste with shrimp or shellfish. In traditional Malay medicine, the Petai beans are used in treating heart diseases and diabetes. It also is high in potassium yet low in salt, making it perfect for combating high blood pressure.

DAUN KADOK

Daun Kadok or wild pepper is the glossy heart-shaped leaf of a creeper, scientifically known as the Piper Sarmentosum. It is believed that by boiling the leaves and drinking its water, one can cure constipation, tooth ache and cough.

KACANG KELISA/ KACANG BOTOL

The Winged Bean, also known as Goa Bean or Asparagus Pea is a tropical legume plant native to Papua New Guinea. It is usually eaten raw with sambal belacan, though some people stir fry it with chillies. The young Kacang Kelisa is rich in protein, calcium as well as vitamins A and B. Traditionally, the leaf of the Kacang Kelisa plant is boiled and rubbed all over the body to help reduce measles.

Unmistakably Malay... Tanjong Jara Resort

It is the blues and greens of the dazzling South China Sea that capture and hold the imagination of visitors as they drive up to the entrance of the Tanjong Jara Resort.

The state of Terengganu, known as the 'Gem of the East Coast' is a region that basks in the warmth and grace synonymous with its people. 225km of sandy white coastline fringed with Casuarina and palm trees add to its charm, making this one of the most picturesque destinations in the country. And in this scenic state, in an alcove called Tanjong Jara stands a charming resort that beckons gently.

With 99 rooms built in a style reminiscent of Malay palaces of the past, Tanjong Jara Resort promises an 'Unmistakably Malay' cultural experience. Stay in beach front rooms fashioned after the long house or the 'Anjung' rooms featuring symmetrical sunken outdoor baths in private gardens. Laze in over-sized beds or wooden verandas or even the delightful canopied day bed. Enjoy added privacy at the romantic 'Anjung Suite' by the river, facing the cerulean ocean.

For sustenance drop in at 'Di Atas Sungei', meaning 'above the river', a cosy restaurant situated amidst tropical greenery. Ask your waiter to recommend dishes exclusive to the East Coast region and if you're here for breakfast, do watch out for iguanas swimming by lazily each morning! Seafood lovers will delight in the fresh harvest of the sea at 'Nelayan' restaurant; here guests can opt to dine alfresco on the beach, warmly lit by bamboo torches. A highlight of this resort is the morning market trip with the chef, followed by a cooking class where guests can try their hands at whipping up local fare.

If the sunshine and sea breeze haven't worked up a harmonious mood by now, try stepping into the Spa Village and be pampered into a blissful state. Therapies unique to the region aided by natural ingredients found in various indigenous herbs and plants are combined with the skills of the resident Malay healers to provide a special health and beauty experience.

Add to this a bicycle ride by the striking coastline and through quaint fishing villages, fascinating jungle walks, lazy river cruises, a breathtaking night sky and amazing snorkelling or diving at Tenggol Island, a beautiful private island just a short boat ride away from the mainland- and you'll be having yourself an absolutely rejuvenating vacation.

With a host of natural and cultural charms combined with a distinctive interpretation of warm service, Tanjong Jara Resort is raised to a unique level in Malaysian hospitality.

Welcome to an 'Unmistakably Malay' experience....

WHAT'S COOKING CHEF?

The special thing about dining at Tanjong Jara Resort Terengganu is that guests can create their own dishes at the Di Atas Sungai restaurant. Instead of being handed the usual menu, diners will be visited by resident Menu Master, Chef Ann at their respective tables to assist them in making their meal choices.

So what IS on the menu? Meat, seafood, poultry, vegetables, rice .... anything you like cooked the way you like them - fried, boiled, sautéed, grilled, braised etc. With Chef Ann at hand to advise you, guests can choose to try new local flavours or stick with the restaurant's signature dishes like the 'Roselle Chicken', 'Butter Milk Prawns' or 'Chocolate Lava Cake', a rich and moist chocolate cake served with vanilla ice-cream for dessert.

'Sucimurni' translates into purity in the Malay language and that, is the essence of Tanjong Jara Resort's Spa Village. Considered by many to be the highlight of the resort, it is a wellness sanctuary devoted to pamper and heal all who step into its space.

Set inside an enclosure featuring wooden structures, pools and tropical gardens, the Spa Village really is a retreat within a retreat. The philosophy of 'Sucimurni' is manifested in the healing therapies offered here and the many natural local ingredients used. The remedial properties of these ingredients combine with native healing practices to be transferred from the skilful hands of the therapist to the guest.

The 'Roselle', also known by its local name as 'Asam Paya' or 'Asam Kumbang' is the signature element of the Spa Village. The plant's red flower with its high vitamin content and antiosianin has long been used in traditional medicine and local delicacies. It forms natural collagen and assists in vitamin absorption thus improving the vitality of the skin and helping to maintain a youthful glow. It is no wonder that the 'Asam Roselle Experience' is at top of the spa's menu.

This 100-minute treatment begins with a relaxing massage using long kneading strokes and a scented blend of Roselle, Ginger, Nutmeg, Galangal and Carotino oil which rejuvenates the body and nourishes the skin. It is followed by a moisturising application of Roselle, rice and coconut oil. This creamy scrub, rich in natural vitamins and fruit acids, exfoliates, softens and refines skin.

Another rare therapy offered here is 'Ikal-Ikal' or Malay Scalp Treatment which is known to be an effective cure for hair loss, scalp irritation and migraine. 'Minyak Serapi' or Menthol oil made from Eucalyptus, Citronella and Clove is used for a head, shoulder and scalp massage. Next, a herbal paste of Henna, Betel leaves and Hibiscus leaves is applied. The treatment is finished off with a generous application of fragrant Pandan (Screw Pine leaf) and coconut conditioner.

Guests also have the luxury of sinking into specially drawn baths at the spa. A menu card in every guest room displays several Luxury Baths, each designed for a specific purpose but all employing the most natural and aromatic of ingredients. Lime, rose, jasmine, cucumber, mint, green tea, almonds, honey, yoghurt and an assortment of sweet-smelling herbs and spices are used to create amazing bath experiences.

Probably the most interesting feature of the Spa Village is the 'Mandi Bunga' ceremony which originated in the royal palaces where it was part of the formal procedures in the coronation of a new king. It is also practised by Malay healers to rid the body of negative energies. At Tanjong Jara, it colourfully illustrates the Sucimurni spirit.

A special procession takes place daily at 9.30 a.m. from the Lobby to the Spa Village where, seven men carrying water jars draw water from seven jars at the Nelayan square. It symbolises the seven sources of fresh water: rain, well, river, spring, waterfall, lake and stream water. The procession also includes seven ladies carrying brass trays of seven colours of flowers. The waters collected are transferred into 173-year-old jars recovered from the Desaru shipwreck and, the flowers added to it. All treatments at the Spa Village begin with the 'Mandi Bunga' ritual. Guests are bathed from head to toe seven times, with the blessings of purity, sincerity, health, beauty, happiness, prosperity and longevity.

Spa Village at Tanjong Jara Resort

'The philosophy of Sucimurni emphasises purity of spirit, health and well-being'

1. KUALA KRAI-DABONG RIVER CRUISE

Starting off at Kuala Krai, this cruise brings you through virgin rainforests as it moves upriver to the town of Dabong. As you pass through more of the forest area, you will see the riverine communities it holds and some shy jungle wildlife. Kingfishers, eagles and hornbills and various species of monkeys can be spotted everywhere. Elephants are known to inhabit this area as well.

2. GUNUNG STONG STATE PARK

With several prominent mountain peaks, Gunung Stong State Park (GSSP) is an area of outstanding beauty and is home to one of the highest waterfalls in Malaysia, the seven-tiered Jelawang Waterfall. Its rugged landscape offers many adventures and is a significant conservation area with rich flora and fauna diversity. Look out for the Asian elephant, Seladang, Great Argus Pheasant, Malayan tiger and other animals. View sunset and sunrise from Gunung Ayam peak or stay overnight at the park's campsite. Visit the breathtaking 225 million year-old limestone caves at Dabong that house several bat species and rare flora.

3. DIVING & SNORKELLING

Terengganu is home to some of the most beautiful beaches and islands. Crystal clear waters stretch the length of its coastline from Besut in the north to Kemaman in the south. The islands of Perhentian, Lang Tengah, Redang, Kapas and Tenggol are famously known as diving paradises.

Redang Island, located 45km off the coast of Kuala Terengganu, is the largest of a group of nine protected islands dotting the South China Sea off the Terengganu coast. Sheltered within the Pulau Redang Marine Park, the waters here are rich in marine life. At midday when sun rays penetrate the sea, brilliant hues of coral, anemones and fish can be seen. This paradise island is perfect for snorkeling, swimming, scuba-diving, jungle trekking, boating and canoeing. Tenggol Island is another beautiful diving getaway and lies just 45 minutes off Kuala Dungun. It is

Exploring The East Coast

So what can one get upto in the East Coast? If you're a fan of the outdoors and all the fun eco activities that come with it, you'll find lots to keep you occupied and captivated. Try any of these or all if time permits, and you'll be discovering a whole new side of Malaysia.

small, just 3 km long and 2 km wide and the interior of the island is filled with steep, rocky cliffs. This rocky terrain extends from the interior of the island right into the ocean creating a dramatic 'drop-off'.

4. TURTLE WATCHING

Considered to be a hotspot for turtle watches, Terengganu is the place to head for if you want to catch turtles especially the Leatherback specie, coming ashore to lay eggs. This phenomenon is unique to the beaches of Terengganu and can hardly be experienced anywhere else in the Peninsular. This is a seasonal activity and enquiries are necessary before expeditions are made. Watch these amazing creatures but do refrain from committing any act that will traumatise them.

5. JUNGLE TREKKING TO CHERMERUNG WATERFALL

Embark on an exhilarating hike to the base of the gigantic 200 metre Chermerung Waterfall. This adventurous trail leads you through lush jungle, where a breathtaking view awaits. At the end of this bracing trek, find crystal waters slipping past the craggy mountainside to pool in clear basins of rock below.

6. MARANG ECO RIVER CRUISE

Discover the beauty of Marang River on this half-day cruise. Monkeys, iguanas, sea eagles and many exotic birds can be spotted amongst verdant vegetation, riverbanks and rugged inland tropical mangroves.

A visit to a long established Malay 'kampung' or village forms an integral part of the tour.

7. DUNGUN NIGHT MARKET

The local hub of social activity in Dungun, this alfresco night market is held every Thursday in this quaint little town. See for yourself how the locals live and socialise.

'Tours 5, 6 and 7 are available at the Tanjung Jara Resort'.

The Aryani.

The Cultural Experience of Aryani

'The Aryani is the epitome of Malay culture'

Aryani, the very name evokes images of grace and romance. With 27 villas and rooms nestling in a secluded coastal beach in Terengganu, The Aryani promises to be a tranquil retreat.

The Aryani lay out is based on the classical concept of the Malay settlement and reflects authentic local architecture. The lovely main building is inspired by the Sultan's palace of ancient days while the resort's main highlight has to be the 100-year-old timber 'Heritage Suite' which has been dismantled and rebuilt on site.

All villas have their own private garden and gateway with an outdoor sunken bathtub. Choose between easy access to the pool, total seclusion close to nature or spending your time in bed gazing out to the azure South China Sea. The ambience here is one of total calm and serenity, which is further accentuated by the traditional architecture.

The welcome drink, a unique concoction of 'serai' or lemongrass and tea is most refreshing while the 'Serai Restaurant' treats guests to the rich flavours of local cuisine. 'Hikayat' is a cosy fine dining outlet catering to those wanting just a little more privacy and the rustic

'Pulau' beach club is the exact sort of place to wind down while enjoying the sea breeze.

A day at the 'Heritage' Spa is highly recommended. Set within a small building resembling a Malay house, it offers a variety of treatments inspired by remedies handed down generations of local folk. Indulge and rejuvenate, while being serenaded by the soulful music of the 'Gamelan'.

The Aryani is the epitome of Malay culture, with its rich handicraft and cultural heritage of the beautiful state of Terengganu.

Cameron's Countryside Charms

Not too far from the dazzling beaches and islands Malaysia is famed for, are several hill stations that offer an escape from the heat of the lowlands. Located 1500 metres above sea level and stretching across a plateau, the Cameron Highlands has long been favoured for its panoramic views of rolling tea plantations, majestic mountain peaks blanketed in mists and clouds, colourful vegetable and flower farms, cool climes and remnant traditions of a long ago colonial era.

The pace of life here is much slower than that in our cities, but there are a number of things one can fill the day with in these charming highlands. Here's a selection of pleasant activities that should make it into your 'must-do' list if you're heading for the Cameron's:

TEA PLANTATION TOUR

What is a trip to Cameron Highlands without a visit to the tea plantations that brought fame to this hill station in the first place? There are several plantations to pick from namely Boh, Blue Valley and Bharat. Guided tours are easily available, where visitors are briefed on the cultivation of the tea plant and the commercial production process. A stop is made at the factory where the different stages in tea processing can be seen. The tour usually ends with a cup of freshly brewed tea at the tea house situated within the plantation. For a unique experience, try a butler-served picnic in the heart of the Boh plantation. This exclusive package from the Cameron Highlands Resort offers a romantic escapade in a verdant tea plantation complete with a spread of tantalising dishes and wine.

JUNGLE TRAIL

The highlands' location on the Titiwangsa mountain range presents many trekking opportunities that bring adventurers to the heart of nature and mystery. Exciting trails of various difficulties take trekkers into a world rich with flora and fauna of the region, fairy-like mossy forests, picturesque scenes of waterfalls, streams and mountains, villages and temples. One of the most popular trail here is the Jim Thompson Trail, named so after the Thai silk merchant who went off on a stroll in 1967, and was never seen again. The Cameron Highlands Resort in particular, has a wide range of trails catering to the individual's interest, time and capacity for difficulty.

STRAWBERRY PICKING

Strawberries are synonymous with Cameron Highlands. Whether you buy them in the markets or pick them from the farms yourself, it's hardly likely that you will leave the highlands without a packet or two of these succulent, red fruits. Strawberry picking is a popular activity indeed, with a number of farms allowing visitors to fill up baskets with harvest-ready fruits. Often, the farms sell strawberry jams, dried strawberries or even serve the freshly picked fruits with clotted cream.

KEA FARM MARKET VISIT

Well known as the 'Salad Bowl' of the country, the highlands is a hub of vegetable and flower production. Although fresh produce of assorted types are sold at markets all through the little towns here, the Kea Farm markets are of particular interest. Located by the roadside at Brinchang town, these market stalls are popular for the little packets of vegetables and flowers sold in the dozens.

TEA AND SCONES EXPERIENCE

Made famous by the tea-loving British, the tea and scones fare has somewhat become a trademark of this hill station. Just about every resort offers this spread of aromatic tea leaves from the surrounding valleys and freshly baked scones accompanied with clotted cream and home made strawberry jam. Don't leave the highlands without savouring this signature tea time experience!

TRAVEL MALAYSIA

The hotel's white and black facade evokes images of old English buildings, with a driveway paved by hedges and colourful blooms. The interior resembles a colonial home with welcoming fireplaces, timber-beamed ceilings and comfortable settees and armchairs. The Highlands Bar, and the Jim Thompson Tea Room with its grand piano, make ideal lounging areas to savour the traditional English Afternoon Tea or to wind down with a drink while looking out to the adjacent 18-hole golf course. Next to it is the Reading Room, a delightfully cosy spot with a good selection of reading material to keep you occupied if you're in the mood to take it even easier.

The main focus of the guest rooms are the king-sized four poster beds closed in by tall French doors and plantation shutters. Every room opens out to a gorgeous view of the gardens below and the fir-fringed golfing greens. The signature suites which are the Cameron Suite and the Jim Thompson Suite are beautifully laid out with two bedrooms each, a common lounge in each suite, luxurious bathrooms, king sized four-poster beds and twin beds.

If you fancy outdoor pursuits, pick one or two of the many treks listed on the resort's activities menu. There are a number of trails tailored for various grades of hiking difficulties. Led by experienced guides who readily entertain trekkers with tales of the highlands, the trails each take you to different sights. For rejuvenation, the Spa Village serves a menu of exotic treatments that feature the restorative properties of tea combined with the knowledge of traditional therapies drawn from the 'Orang Asli' or native people of the highlands.

One of the main highlights of the resort certainly has to be its spread of gourmet cuisine. Although not extensive, the selection featured at the Dining Room is simply exquisite. The home made 'Chicken, Leek and Mushroom Pie' is a rich, creamy affair in a feathery light pie crust while the 'Caesar Salad' served with a generous sprinkle of sautéed garlic and drenched in olive oil and vinegar, sets off a startling crunchy freshness. The 'Roast Rack of Tasmanian Lamb' is another winning dish. Crispy on the outside, yet tender and moist on the inside, this XO honey glazed dish makes a superb main course. Don't miss out the 'Raspberry Topped Rice Pudding Brulee' either- a unique dessert that carries several tantalising flavours.

Set amidst rolling tea plantations and hills, this boutique resort promises the splendour, romance and nostalgia of Cameron Highlands' grand heritage. It is an intimate resort for the sophisticated traveller looking to escape the humdrum routine and experience a sense of country-style living with attentive yet unobtrusive service.

Trails, Tales and Traditions at Cameron Highlands Resort

The Cameron Highlands Resort is the place to head for if you're looking for an elegant hill resort exuding old world ambience, yet fitted with modern facilities. Its 56 rooms and suites are designed for stylish comfort and boast panoramic views of undulating hills. On top of this, the resort has received an international accolade from The Independent in UK, which voted it amongst the 'Five Best Tea Plantation Hotels', an honour that has placed the resort on the world map.

Spa Village at the Cameron Highlands Resort

One of the highlights of the Cameron Highlands Resort definitely has to be its award-winning Spa Village, a sanctuary emanating warmth and peace in cool, pristine surroundings. And where tea is a symbolic ingredient, it is not surprising that the aromatic leaves serve as the foundation for many of the sublime experiences offered here.

What makes the therapies at the Spa Village special is that the treatments combine produce from the surrounding jungles, ancient tea rituals and the age old curative knowledge of the 'Orang Asli' or native people of the highlands. With this unique combination of elements in place, the Cameron Highlands Resort through its Spa Village has established itself a leading therapeutic healing retreat.

No matter what you pick off the spa menu, your every spa experience will begin with the signature tea bath, a heavenly soak formulated to gently cleanse, nourish and soften the skin. The bath also indicates the significance of the bathing ritual, which throughout Asia is regarded as an integral part of physical and spiritual cleansing.

A therapy most unique to Cameron Highlands is the 'Fresh Strawberry Escapade', a blissfully aromatic treatment evoking delicious scents of ripe strawberries. Known as a symbol of passion and purity, the strawberry is recognised for its medicinal qualities which bring relief from various illnesses. The mandatory tea bath is followed by a body polish using a buff made of fresh strawberries, yoghurt and crushed oatmeal that help to soften and refine skin texture. This is followed by a wonderful strawberry oil massage.

Other therapies worth trying out are the 'Rose Garden' which employs an 'Anti - Stress' bath, scrub and body massage using a herbal preparation of Cameron-grown roses, tea leaves and rose essential oil and, the 'Cameron's Mint' which uses mint as its main ingredient to soften, relax, refresh, hydrate and naturally deodorise the skin and body while refreshing the mind and senses. The 'Chrysanthemum and Avocado Escape' makes the most of the vitamins, minerals and natural oils of the avocado fruit to aid the skin in gaining a silky soft texture, while 'The Semai' encompasses a series of traditional therapies that apply the medicinal properties of the jungle harvest and the ancient healing practices of the native 'Semai' people.

From its quietly sheltered spot amongst the hills, the Spa Village at Cameron Highlands Resort glows with warm, healing energies and emits heavenly fragrances that invite guests to venture within its quarters for an incredible escape.

Smokehouse Hotel

It was during the Christmas of 1937 when Ye Olde Smokehouse Inn as it was known then, first opened its doors to guests. The Tudor-styled hotel began operations with just 6 rooms and was meant mainly for homesick British expatriates. Its very English atmosphere combined with the cool highland climate made it the perfect getaway from the heat of the lowlands.

After several changes of ownership, the hotel finally came to rest in the hands of a Malaysian in 1977, whose family has lovingly restored the place and brought it to its present commercial popularity.

The resort is situated adjacent to a beautiful golf course and fronted by a garden of riotous colours.

Looking just like a picture postcard, the partially ivy-covered exterior welcomes visitors to an interior that speaks of antique elegance. Canopy beds, oak beams, roaring fireplaces and lovely garden views are main features to look forward to.

The hotel serves a fine English breakfast of eggs, bacon, sausages, tomatoes, mushrooms and that most English of oddities, fried bread. Also served are cereals, porridge and freshly baked croissants with homemade marmalade and strawberry preserves. The Afternoon Tea is a popular affair served in either the conservatory or the hotel's trademark garden terraces. The hot, crumbly scones served alongside a rich strawberry

Boutique Hideouts

Given Malaysia's colonial history, one can naturally expect to find remnants of that past woven into the present day. Cameron Highlands having been a favoured hill station of holidaying British expatriates in the past, still carries more than a hint of this romantic era in its colonial styled guest houses and afternoon tea fare habits.

jam and clotted cream have certainly brought much fame to this place! The resort offers a very traditional spread of English cuisine not often found elsewhere and which includes the famous 'Beef Wellington', a dish of the finest marinated tenderloin wrapped in homemade pate and roasted in a special puff pastry. Look out for the Cameron Bar too, with its line up of quaint lamps of various designs.

The Smokehouse is an ideal venue for guests wanting to experience the romance of a bygone era; it presents an unexpected escapade in tropical Malaysia.

The Lakehouse

Another lovely Tudor-styled resort here is The Lakehouse. Built by a retired British Army Officer in 1966 and then bought over by new owners in 1989, it is today one of the most unique boutique resorts in the country. Set in an area dubbed 'The Valley of Eternal Spring', this idyllic country house sits atop a hill, surrounded by beautifully manicured gardens, overlooking rolling hills and verdant woodlands.

Fitted with just 18 rooms, lush and quaint furnishings form a wonderful backdrop where four-poster beds, winged chairs, antique cupboards, table fans and fresh flowers from the garden complete the old world charm. The Restaurant is where guests are pampered with a fine selection of traditional English cuisine, as they wine and dine in a romantic candle-lit ambience, while the Highlander Lounge is just the place to snuggle up in chilly evenings and perfect for after-dinner drinks by the log fireplace.

The resort's allure is further heightened by the blossom filled Lakeview Terrace which offers the perfect al fresco setting for guests to enjoy afternoon tea and scones, and bask in the sun. The home baked scones, homemade jam and cream are almost as famous as the resort itself.

The Lakehouse is also a fabulous location choice for romantic weddings. For a wedding in an intimate setting for a small group of family and friends, it offers both the wedding couple and their guests the peace and tranquillity needed for that special and memorable once-in-a-lifetime moment.

Be prepared to be charmed by this exclusive boutique resort, discreetly nestled in the natural beauty of Cameron Highlands.
